

Francesca Enea, assistant coach for the University of Florida Gator Softball team, delivered a presentation titled "Legacy in Motion: The Florida Softball Impact." She shared her personal journey from being a recruit under Coach Tim Walton to becoming a coach herself, emphasizing how the program has evolved from being unknown to achieving national prominence with 13 Women's College World Series appearances. Francesca discussed the program's commitment to developing both athletic talent and character, highlighting the approach to balancing athletic excellence with academic success and community service.
