Greetings to all members of the Retired Faculty of the University of Florida. I hope you all agree with me that we have had a successful Fall program. This has been the result of a joint effort by several folks. Jackie Orlando was selected as President-elect last spring and worked hard over the summer to put together this year's program. By the end of summer the program was almost complete for the year with some input from other members of the Board. However, by the end of summer Jackie decided that increased family commitments prevented her from continuing in office. Richard Pettway agreed graciously, albeit somewhat reluctantly, to step in for Jacky and has done a magnificent job of managing the program from that point forward. We all owe a debt of gratitude to Richard for stepping into the breach and doing a superb job. Actually, I would be remiss not to recognize all of the officers and board members for their willingness to pitch in. Jane Brockmann has done yeoman service as treasurer and was very helpful in the successful resolution of our agreement with Glenda Eldred to continue to organize the coffees prior to the talks. (Keep your eye on Jane, I predict another high RFUF office in her future). Hank Conner and Anita Spring enthusiastically have continued their service. Roy Bolduc has kept us up to date every week with the RFUF bulletin and John Foltz has kept the data base of members and officers up to date.

It has been a pleasure to be the president. Having been the president has given me the opportunity to get to know many of you better and to continue more frequent interaction with those I knew before. The willingness of almost all the folks we contact to speak is a strong testament to the high regard in which the retired faculty are held and I share their feelings. For me Wednesday mornings are one of the high points of the week and an excellent way to maintain contact with what's going on at the University. Thanks for all of your support and fellowship.
